TWO MORE GAMES

Westminster Next Monday and Columbia H. S. Thanksgiving.

When it seemed that the team this year would have to spend the last part of the season without any games, a pair of nice contests presented themselves and it now seems as if the season will end with two of its most brilliant battles.

Westminster College has been secured for next Monday, and the game should be a great one. The Presbyterians generally put up a classy exhibition; but although Westminster is a college while Wentworth is merely a preparatory school, the cadets are hoping to annex the big end of the tally. The injuries of Hillix and Parks, however, will greatly weaken the red and white Hillix has been the only man working regularly at quarter this year and his absence from the line up almost leaves the team without a general. Campbell will probably take his position.

The loss of Parks, too, is regretted. Many regarded him as the best of the Wentworth ends and his ability to get down the field under punts was wonderful. Still there are two good ends left in Chambers and Mitchell.

A matter of satisfaction to the student body is the solution of the Thanksgiving problem. After the Kemper game had been declared off, the coaches were despairing of getting a suitable contest for Turkey day; but a worthy foe bobbed up from an unexpected source. It seems that the Columbia High School has leaped into prominence this fall and now holds an undisputed claim to the prep championship of Central Missouri. It is coached by Menta Crouch and E. C. Remley, Jr., old Missouri men.

Tuesday Captain Tilman was the recipient of a communication from Mr. Remley asking for a game. Mr. Remley said:

"Saturday our team defeated the Kemper team 28 to 0. We have also defeated the sophomore, junior and senior class teams at M. U. and will play the freshmen this week. We think our kids can give your team the argument of their lives."

Since the Columbia team made 5 more scores against Kemper than the Warrensburg Normalites were able to get, it is evident that the Lexington aggregation will have to work hard to come out a winner from the Thanksgiving game.

Revival Meeting.

The revival meetings at the First Baptist church are growing daily in interest. There have been several professed conversions to date. Evangelist Montgomery is being well heard by good congregations.

His preaching is straightforward and thorough. It is gospel from start to finish. He asks that all dependence be had in the power of the gospel to save from sin and to a higher plane of living. Don't fail to hear him.

The singing under the direction of Rev. E. H. Robinson is enthusiastic and is an interesting feature of the meetings. The people of Lexington have a great opportunity now to assert themselves for a better city. Let all have a part. The meetings are held daily at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. All are welcome.

Dr. M. G. Roberts went to Columbia yesterday to visit his sons, Edwin and Prewitt who are students in the university.

Recital at Central.

The first pupils' recital of the year was given Thursday evening at Central College for Women. Throughout the program there was abundant evidence of Mr. Conrad's presence at the college and everything passed off with the precision and certainty which he always imparts to his pupils. ## H. D. Ryus Here.

H. D. Ryus '93 of Los Angeles, California, is visiting at the Academy and in Lexington Mr. Ryus is one of the school's most loyal alumni and will be remembered by the old-timers as one of the group of students who had a good deal to do with the change of the Academy from an insignificant institution to the foremost military school in this part of the country. Mr. Ryus and F. M. Hartley were the organizers and first editors-in-chief of the Trumpeter. Mr. Ryus was the organizer and captain of the first football team the Academy ever had. This was in '92, when the Marmaduke Military Institute of Sweet Springs was the foremost exponent of preparatory athletics in Missouri. There was a game with Marmaduke that year on the sand bar. The Wentworth boys played in gray trousers and shirt-sleeves. The score was 48 to 0 in favor of Marmaduke.

Three years later Mr. Ryus returned as a teacher and he and Capt. Hickman, just graduated from V. M. I., organized a real first-class team which cleaned up the Warrensburgs and rendered Marmaduke afraid to play. It was then considered right and proper for teachers to play on the teams of their institutions. Ryus was a wonderful half back and figured prominently in every victory in pioneer football at W. M. A. He quit the faculty to take a commission in the Volunteers at the time of the Spanish-American War. Since then he has promoted various enterprises in California and become a famous automobile driver. He was the first man to beat Barney Oldfield in a race. He is still the holder of several records, among which is the one between Los Angeles and San Francisco. He will have charge of next year's aerial show at Los Angeles and is now on his way East to examine several aeroplanes.

Death of Royce Glascock.

Royce Glascock, eleven years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Glascock, died at the home of his parents, eight miles south of Lexington, near Mt. Hebron church Tuesday morning at 5:40. Death was due to articular rheumatism and came after an illness since only the previous Wednesday.

Royce was an exceedingly industrious and bright boy and gave promise of becoming a most useful citizen. His premature death is indeed a severe blow to his parents.

The funeral was preached at the home Wednesday at eleven o'clock. The body was brought to Lexington for burial.

The dinner was well selected, well cooked, well served and much enjoyed. After dinner high five was played, Mr. Van Vleck and Miss Madge Hill won the prizes.

Ferd Smith of Kansas City was here Wednesday.

Dr. J. J. Fulkerson was in Corder Thursday on professional business.

Mrs. C. B. Glascock and Mrs. Charles Welsh returned to Kansas City Wednesday evening after a visit at the home of C. L. Glascock.

Marcosson Concert.

Much interest is manifested in the Marcosson Concert at Central College Tuesday evening November 16.

Marcosson's very name is a cause for delight in the great cities where his magic bow has cast spells of witchery over the most brilliant and most discerning audiences of the period. He needs no introduction to the hundreds here who have heard him and who will consider it a privilege to hear him again.

The following are some of the press comments of his brilliant work at Chautauque, N. Y.

Mr. Marcosson is a violinist of brilliant attainments, combining intelligence with poetic feeling, violin playing and superb technique. Mr. Marcosson played, with artistic finish and exquisite tonal coloring a group of Chopin numbers, a Nocturne and a Waltz, the dainty rhythmic charm of which elicited a long applause. He was skillfully accompanied by Mrs. Marcosson, unity of thought and artistic conception characterizing their playing—Chautauque Daily.

Clem Tyree was in Kansas City Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer spent Thursday in Kansas City.

Mrs. Robt. A. Wilson spent Thursday in Kansas City.

W. E. Pruitt returned to his home in Kansas City Tuesday evening after a short stay in Lexington.

Engagement Announced.

At one of the most elaborate and well-appointed dinner parties ever given in Lexington, Mrs. Clarence Vivion Wednesday afternoon announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Nancy Lee, to Cadet Charles Brindel Owen of the City of Mexico, now a student of Wentworth Military academy.

The dinner was given at one o'clock at the Vivion residence, 1611 South street. The house was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, smilax and yellow tulle. At each plate was a place card in the shape of a heart with a drawing of a bride's head, and a gold ring upon which was perched a miniature dove. Inside the ring was a small roll of paper announcing the engagement. There were present sixteen of Miss Vivion's most intimate girl friends. The dinner was in six courses.

Miss Vivion is one of the most charming young ladies of Lexington and is exceedingly popular in her wide circle of friends. She is possessed of an exceedingly amiable disposition and many accomplishments. Mr. Owen is the senior cadet officer at the academy and the star of the football team. He was graduated last June and is now doing post graduate work. He is probably the most popular student at the academy and is highly esteemed in town.

The wedding will take place in January and will be looked forward to with interest.
